

ANNA CASE CULBERTSON

Augustus Case-Elizabeth Bell

1. ANNA CASE

Anna Case, daughter and oldest child of Augustus and Elizabeth Case, was born December 28th, 1794 in Sussex County, New Jersey, removed in 1798 with her parents to Washington County, then to Green County, Pennsylvania, where she was reared to womanhood and in 1814 removed with the family to Wayne County, Ohio and was an important factor in establishing the new home in that wilderness country. On June 4, 1816 she was united in marriage to JOHN COLBERTSON and settled on a farm near Millbrook, Wayne County, Ohio.

John Culbertson was born June 26, 1792 in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. To this union twelve children were born, all of whom grew to maturity except one who died in youth. There are as follows:

- | | | |
|-----|-----------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1. | Eliza Culbertson | born April 6, 1817 |
| 2. | Robert Culbertson | born March 31, 1819 |
| 3. | James Culbertson | born March 15, 1821 |
| 4. | Sarah Culbertson | born April 15, 1823 |
| 5. | Phoebe Culbertson | born March 23, 1825 |
| 6. | Mary Culbertson | born May 14, 1827 |
| 7. | Augustus Culbertson | born August 1, 1828 |
| 8. | Cyrus Culbertson | born December 19, 1830 |
| 9. | Sophronia Culbertson | born February 25, 1832 |
| 10. | Clarrissa Culbertson | born January 12, 1834 |
| 11. | Rebecca Culbertson | born September 16, 1834 |
| 12. | Matilda Culbertson | born July 16, 1838 |

About the year of 1840 Mr. Culbertson sold his farm near Millbrook, Wayne Co., Ohio and moved to Lawrence County, Illinois. His family then consisted of himself, his wife and all of the foregoing named 12 children. Their entire effects were, as well as the family, carried in two covered wagons drawn by horses. The reader will remember that there were no railroads in those days and but very few public highways and these usually in very poor condition. So a journey of this kind was attended with more care and anxiety in that age of the country than a trip around the world would now be. In passing through swamp and marshy lands sometimes not five miles would be made in a day. In fact, in the spring of the year it was utterly impossible to travel at all in some of those roads, therefore, these migrations to the west were usually made in the fall of the year when the moisture of the ground was well dried up and the least precipitation of any part of the year. Mr. Culbertson and his family located four miles northeast of Sumner and five miles northwest of Bridgeport in the above named county. From here the many lines of family divergence commenced and here Mrs. Culbertson and her husband spent the balance of their days. Mr. John Culbertson, the husband father, died here on October 14, 1846 and his wife, Mrs. Anna Culbertson – nee Case – survived him nearly sixteen years, dying May 25, 1862, aged 67 years, 4 months, and 27 days.

Eliza Culbertson, Anna's eldest child, was born in Wayne County, Ohio and was married in Lawrence County, Illinois on November 8, 1842 to Jacob Hersey. She died May 18, 1882. To this union eight children were born, four of whom are now living.

Robert Culbertson, second child of Anna, was born in Wayne County, Ohio and moved with the family to Lawrence County, Illinois. He was married twice and left behind him six children, dying in Grant County, Wisconsin about the year 1878.

James Culbertson, 3rd child of Anna, died young in Lawrence County, Illinois.

Sarah Culbertson, 4th child of Anna, was never married and died in Bridgeport, Illinois.

Phoebe Culbertson, 5th child of Anna, was married in Lawrence County, Illinois to Captain John W. Watts. Mr. Watts was a captain in the United States Army during the Civil War.

Col. C. C. Dwight, Com. Of Exchange

Sir: I take the liberty to address you in behalf of Lieut. W. J. Srofe and myself. We were captured with our Regt. At the battle of Mansfield La., April 8th 1864, and taken to this place. We did not think that there was any prospect of exchange last summer, so on the 20th day of August last, we made our escape from here and started for Little Rock. It being the nearest from here to our lines. When within 40 or 80 miles from Little Rock, we were recaptured by the enemy's pickets and taken to Camden, Ark. Where we were kept until Sept. 30th, when with a number of other prisoners we were sent back to this place. On the 9th of October, we passed our Rgt. near Shreveport. They were on their way to our lines for exchange. I made an effort to be sent on with them, but could get no hearing. When we arrived here the Col. Comd'g the Prison said that we would be considered prisoners from the date of our recapture, the 2nd of Sept. Which will make us the latest captured prisoners in the Department. Capt Birchard the paroling officer has informed us that we have forfeited our claim to an exchange until all the other prisoners here are exchanged. They say that this is the only way they have of punishing us for running away. What I ask of you is that you will be so kind and make a request for us to be sent forward at the next exchange that takes place. If it is not done, we will undoubtedly be kept until the last man here has been exchanged, which I think will be doing us great injustice if our Authorities let the Rebs have their own way about it. Hoping that you will give my request a favorable hearing, I remain your Obedient Servant
J.L. Bering, Major 48th Reg. Ohil Veteran Infantry

From the OFFICIAL RECORDS: Series 2, vol. 8, Part 1 (Prisoners of War):

CAMP OF NATIONAL PRISONERS,
Near Tyler, Tex., February 11, 1865.

Major General E. R. S. CANBY,
Commanding Military Division of West Mississippi:

GENERAL: The undersigned, officers of the U. S. Army, held as prisoners of war at this camp, take the liberty of addressing you, desiring to call your attention to the fact that there are officers of our army now held at this place and at the guard-house in Shreveport who we are assured are held by the Confederate authorities as punishment for attempting to escape to our own lines. We have always supposed that it was the right and duty of a prisoner of war to make his own escape when possible, and that it was contrary to all rules and usages of civilized warfare to punish him for so doing. Major Bering and Lieutenant Srofe, of the Forty-eight Ohio Infantry, are among the oldest prisoners in camp. They were in Shreveport when their regiment passed through Shreveport for exchange in October last. Major McCauley, of the First Indiana [Cavalry], and Lieutenants Fleming and Fulton, of the Seventy-seventh Ohio Infantry, are now and have been for some time in the guard-house at Shreveport for attempting to escape. Their regiments are now going forward for exchange, but the agent of exchange refuses to send them forward. Being the oldest prisoners here we expected to have gone on this exchange, as we supposed it was the rule of our Government to exchange the oldest captures first, but, as it seems not to be, we would endeavor to exchange ourselves, cheerfully undergoing all the hardships and dangers of an attempt to travel some 400 miles through the enemy's country were we assured that we would be protected in so doing by our authorities. It is poor encouragement if we know that when recaptured and our regiments are exchanged we are retained in prison. We are sure it is only necessary to call your attention to the matter to have it corrected. We shall look anxiously for the action of our Government in the cases referred to.

Respectfully,

Account by Samuel Case resumes:

He also was Sheriff of Lawrence County, Illinois. To this union was born three children, two of whom are now living. Both Captain Watts and his wife, Phoebe, are now dead, leaving behind a son and a daughter.

Mary Culbertson, 6th child of Anna, died in Lawrence County, Illinois

August Culbertson, 7th child, died in Illinois.

Cyrus Culbertson, 8th child of Anna, was born in Wayne County, Ohio, moved with his parents to Lawrence County, Illinois and was united in marriage on December 25, 1854 to Susanna Fisher of Sangamon County, Illinois – a sister to the wife of Senator Cullom of that State. She died January 5, 1885. She was the mother of eight children, three of whom are now living. Mr. Culbertson is now living with son, John Culbertson, on a part of his father's old farm which he now owns, it being a part of the old homestead on which the family first settled. He is the only one of this family of twelve children now living and is in his sixty-sixth year and enjoying fairly good health. John Culbertson has three children, all girls – the oldest of whom is now about six years of age. His daughter, Ella Culbertson, married a minister of the United Brethern Church and was stationed at Terre Haute, Indiana, where she died. His daughter, Lillie Culbertson, married a man by the name of Candle and they are now living on a farm in Stoddard County, Missouri. This couple has two children living, being great-grandchildren of Anna Case. Their address is Valley Ridge, Stoddard County, Missouri. Mr. Culbertson's oldest daughter, Lou Culbertson, married a man by the name of Piper and now lives on a farm two and one half miles north of her father. She has five children, the eldest being about fifteen years of age.

Sophronia Culbertson, 9th child of Anna was born February 25, 1832, moved with her parents to Illinois, where on April 5, 1855 she was united in marriage to David McCausland. To them were born seven children, five of whom are now living. She died May 10, 1888.

Clarissa Culbertson, 10th child of Anna, was married in Lawrence County, Illinois to Benjamin Hamilton and died leaving behind her seven children.

Rebecca Culbertson, 11th child of Anna, married twice – first to the Rev. C.R. Low, a minister in the Baptist Church. The second marriage was to Rev. ___ Hutchison, also a minister in the Baptist Church. She died near Fort Nisbrara leaving one child.

Matilda Culbertson, 12th child of Anna, was born in Wayne County, Ohio on July 16, 1838 and when a child moved with her parents to Lawrence County, Illinois. She was never married and died at Bridgeport, that county on July 1874.

The writer regrets that he does not know more about his branch of the family and acknowledges his indebtedness for the foregoing information to Mr. Cyrus Culbertson, the only one living child of Anna Case, who now lives on a part of his father and mother's old home in Lawrence County, Illinois. Mr. Culbertson is now and has been for many years a member of the Presbyterian Church at Bridgeport in that County. Mr. Culbertson did not state his politics, but I take it that he is a Republican from his marriage relations which he names with Senator Cullom of that State. His address is Sumner, Lawrence County, Illinois.

SAMUEL YOUNGS CASE

Augustus Case-Elizabeth Bell

2. Samuel Youngs Case

Samuel Youngs Case, second child and oldest son of Augustus Case was born in Sussex County, New Jersey on September 27th, 1796 and in 1798 removed with the family to Wayne County, Ohio. He was raised as a farmer and for several years before leaving Pennsylvania took charge of his father's farm, his father being a carpenter and spending most of his time working at his trade.

On arriving in Ohio he assisted in the construction of the first cabin on the old homestead. He also assisted in making the first improvements on the farm.

On August 20, 1817 he was united in marriage to Jane Akright and commenced housekeeping in the original cabin on the farm beside which his father had constructed for himself and the family a commodious and comfortable hewn log house into which he had moved. They spent the first winter of their married life here and during the winter and spring, assisted by his father, erected a log house on the south half of his father's farm and about eighty rods distant. In this he lived five or six years, then moved to his father's land in Richland County on Mohecan Creek about two miles north of Jeromesville in what is now Ashland County. On this land he built and opened up improvements, it being heavy timbered land. Mr. Case remained here four years, then secured a home of his own adjoining his father's home in Plain Township, Wayne County, being the west half of the southwest quarter of Section Twenty-seven (27). To this home he removed his family, on which there was a cabin built and about three acres cleared. Also the famed (to the family) never failing old well was dug, which remains in good condition to this day, located at the foot of the hill near the residence and is about ten feet deep and walled with "boulders" so large that it took two men to put them in place. On this place Mr. Case lived for more than forty years, rearing his family here. And from here his family of nine children all entered the active arena of life for themselves.

To this union ten children were born, one of which died in infancy and eight sons and one daughter growing to maturity. All married and entered active life for themselves. The names and ages of these children are as follows:

1. Milton Bell Case born July 25, 1818
2. Augustus Case born August 27, 1820
3. Youngs Cazadd Case born November 11, 1822
4. Reason Bell Case born October 24, 1824
5. Aaron Bell Case born December 8, 1826
6. Isaac A. Case born February 14, 1829 and died in infancy
7. John Bell Case born January 17, 1830
8. Samuel Case born March 25, 1832
9. Elizabeth Jane Case born August 2, 1834
10. William Henry Harrington Case born March 24, 1837

In the spring of 1867 Mr. Case sold the remainder of the old homestead, he having sold a part to his son Reason Bell Case some years before, and went on a prospecting tour to Wood County, Ohio where his daughter and one son were living and, not being satisfied to locate there, he returned and purchased a farm adjoining the old homestead, being the south half of the southeast quarter of section twenty-eight (28) same township (less a few acres on the west end). Here he spent the remainder of his days, dying very suddenly of heart failure on April 7, 1870, aged 70 years, 6 months and 15 days. His remains were laid to rest in the burying ground near the church on a part of his old home farm.

Mr. Case was a man of fine physical development, about six feet in height and weighing about two hundred pounds, broad shoulders, with frame tapering gracefully downward, but not of a hardy structure – with florid cheeks, a hand as soft as a woman's, and a constitution predisposed to tuberculosis difficulty of the lungs, which made itself felt at the age of thirty. He was not able during the remainder of his life to perform the hard labor of his youth.

Mr. Case's education was limited because of the disadvantages of a frontier life, but was a general reader and observer and well informed in all the current events of his day.

Modest and retiring in manners, he never aspired to preferment politically or otherwise. He frequently served on the Board of School Directors of those days and was deeply interested in the cause of education – encouraging his children as his limited means would allow. In politics he was a Whig until the dissolution of that party in 1852, and voted with and supported the principles of the Republican Party the remainder of his life.

Religiously, Mr. Case was reared in the faith of the Presbyterian Church but eventually joined the Methodist Episcopal Church with his wife, in which he lived a consistent member for more than thirty years before his death.

Jane Akright was born in Beaver County, Pennsylvania on August 12, 1795 and was of English parentage. She was one of sixteen children – eight boys and eight girls. Her father, Isaac Akright, was born in England, came to this country when a young man, served as a private soldier in the Revolutionary Army during nearly all the time of the War, reared his family in Beaver County, Pennsylvania and served in the Army of 1812. About the year 1816 he removed with the younger portion of his family to Richland County, Ohio where he died after living to an old age. In England, in his youth, he was apprenticed to a trade, but being dissatisfied with his “master” he left for America without giving notice of his intentions and later, in his old days, regretted his departure – saying his sister, Polly, was living in England in high life with servants to wait on her, while he was suffering the privations of frontier life. He died in the belief that he was an heir to the Akright estate in that country.

His daughter Jane, the subject of this sketch, was an exceedingly hearty and robust woman, capable of great physical labor and endurance and frequently, in her old days, recounted incidents of her early life in attestation of this fact – such as the following story: Her father kept a ferry-boat to carry emigrants and others across the river. In the absence of the male members of the family, Jane, at the age of 16, would “pole” the flat across the river alone while it was loaded with horses, wagon and cattle. She would also ride long distances on horseback with saddle or blanket, etc. At the age of sixteen Miss Akright united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, which displeased her parents and older brothers and sisters and she was compelled to leave home, the family adhering to the German Lutheran faith. But, before a year had elapsed, she was invited to return and several of her brothers and sisters soon joined her in her church relationship. She remained a devoted member and an ardent worker in the church of her choice of her youth for more than sixty years, until her death.

She removed with the family to Ohio where she was united in marriage with Samuel Youngs Case. For many long years she was the main support of her family, a hard worker, working early and late. When her usual day’s work was done, she “mounted her loom” and wove until ten or twelve o’clock, or would do a large part of her sewing for her family while they were asleep. At the age of sixty-eight she had a fall which dislocated her shoulder and resulted in paralysis of the whole side, from which she never recovered sufficiently to walk alone. After the death of her husband in 1870 she removed to Bowling Green, Wood County, Ohio where she spent the remainder of her life with her daughter Elizabeth J. Faws and her son Samuel Case, in whose home she expired on January 15, 1876. Her remains were carried back to the old home in Wayne County, Ohio and laid to rest beside that of her husband in the family ground.

THE OLD CHURCH

It is probably fitting and proper in this connection to speak of the old family and public burying ground and the church building with which it stands connected. Also the organization of the Society which worships there.

Mrs. Jane Case, of the foregoing sketch, was the first member of the Methodist Episcopal Church locating in this settlement. Sometime afterward Mr. Samuel Clark and his wife, who were members of the same church, located on the farm north and adjoining that of Samuel Y. Case and soon others came to the neighborhood whose names are not now known. Ministers of that denomination were invited to preach in the neighborhood, which they did, sometimes in Mr. Case's house as well as in the house of Mr. Clark. About the year 1830 a class was organized consisting of Mrs. Jane Case, her brothers-in-law, Onasimus and Joshua Case, Mr. Clark and his wife and others whose names are now forgotten. Soon afterward Mr. Samuel Y. Case deeded to the society one acre of ground in the fork of the public highway on the east side and a little north of the center of his farm, on which a neat hewn log structure for a church, 24'x24' was erected, and a part of the lot laid out for a burying ground. In this building the society worshiped and it was known as "Case's Meeting House". The organization grew and increased in number to a large society and embracing within its membership nearly all of Augustus Case's children and grandchildren, and it had much to do in molding and shaping the character and career of his now widely scattered and numerous family. In this building Edward Thompson, afterward "Bishop Thompson", preached his first sermon. In this building many other notable ministers preached the Word of Life. Among them, Elmer Tocum, John Mitchell, the two Kellum Brothers, Jesse Warner, Adam Roe, Elnathan C. Cavit, Thomas Barkdull, Russell Bigelow, et. Al. In 1853 the log Meeting House was removed and a neat and beautiful frame edifice was erected on the same site. That was again succeeded, about 1884, by another frame building of modern design and convenience. The place is now known as "Maple Grove", and only one family of the name is now living in the community.

In 1837 Samuel Y. Case deeded a small tract of land adjoining the above described premises for a schoolhouse. Although the site has been changed twice, yet a school has been in continuance to this day. The burying ground is now in good condition and well cared for and the remains of Augustus Case, with three of his sons and two of their wives, with one daughter and her husband and other younger members of the family, lie buried in it.

JOHN BELL CASE

3. John Bell Case

John Bell Case, third child and second son of Augustus Case, was born in Washington County, Pennsylvania on July 24th, 1801 and came with the family to Wayne County, Ohio in 1814 where he grew to manhood assisting the family in improving their new home in the forest, enjoying meager advantages for the gaining of an education.

On January 12th, 1826 he was united in marriage to Sarah Strickland in Richland County, Ohio near Haysville (now Ashland County).

Mr. Case was a farmer by occupation and lived in Richland County and Seneca County, Ohio. While here, he with others took a contract from the State to build three miles of pike road in Seneca County, receiving their pay in government lands. They spent the fall of the year for three years in completing the work. About the year of 1836 he settled on a farm in Wayne County where he resided until about 1844 when he moved to Seneca County again, settling on a farm near Republic.

To this union 6 children were born, all of whom grew to maturity, namely:

Rachael Case, b. October. 12, 1826

Elizabeth Case b. August 9, 1828

Lucinda Case b. May 14, 1830, m. William B. Johnson

Benjamin Franklin Case, b. January 30, 1834

Joseph Case b. May 30, 1837

Martha Jane Case b. May 26th, 1843

While living here his daughter, Lucinda Case was married to William B. Johnson.

About the year 1850 Mr. Case, with his wife and other five children, moved to LaGrange County, Indiana and settled on a farm. On April 11th, 1861 his wife, Sarah Strickland Case died.

In 1865 Mr. Case was united in marriage to Miss Ruth Wallace. To this marriage one child was born, namely John Case, born in July of 1867. Mr. Case spent the remainder of his days in that part of the State and dies on November 5th, 1879 and was buried by the side of his first wife in LaGrange County. His 2nd wife, Ruth Wallace Case, died in 1891.

Mr. Case physically was a man much after the pattern of his father, August Case, in height and general build, but slightly smaller. He was an upright man in all the walks of life and a devoted and earnest member of the M.E. Church all his life, dying at the age of 78 year, 3 months and 11 days. For want of information I am unable to give a more extended account of his life.

ELIZABETH CASE

Augustus Case-Elizabeth Bell

2. Elizabeth Case

Elizabeth Case, 2nd daughter and 4th child of Augustus Case, was born October 17th, 1803 in Washington Co., Pennsylvania and in 1814 came to Wayne Co., Ohio with her parents, sharing with the family the privations and hardships of frontier life. On the death of her mother, which occurred on September 12th, 1817, Elizabeth assumed the responsibility of the household duties for her father until January 14th, 1831 when she was united in marriage to William Kean, at her father's home in Wayne County, Ohio.

This couple commenced life for themselves on his father's farm near where they were married, being on the northwest quarter of Section 27 in Plain Township, Wayne Co., Ohio. At his father's death he purchased the interest of the other heirs and made this his permanent home. On this farm they lived and reared their family of six children, as follows:

Dewitt Clinton Kean, b. April 14, 1832, m. Mary E. Brubaker

Sophia Kean, b. April 9, 1834, m. Edwin Ebright, b. 1830

Annar Kean, b. January 9th, 1836, d. 1929

Augustus Kean, b. December 22nd, 1838, m. Nancy M. Brubaker,
m. 2nd wife: Ella Keys d. 1921

John Kean, b. February 23rd, 1841, d. 1865

Tamer Kean, b. August 13th, 1843, m. Asbury B. Oldroyd, b. 1839

These children all grew to maturity and five of them are now living (1898). William Kean was born on January 12th, 1805 in Pennsylvania, came with his parents when young to Ohio and was among the early settlers in the neighborhood where he settled when married and spent the prime of his life. He was a man of robust constitution, a hard worker and a man of prominence in his community. He took a great interest in education and frequently served on the school board of his district, also served several terms as Justice of the Peace of his township. About the year 1853 he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at "Case's Meeting House" and was a faithful member and worker in the same as long as he lived in the community, contributing largely of his means for its support and serving for many years as one of its class leaders. The writer remembers of his relating an incident of his life which he thinks is worthy of mention:

At the time of his joining the church he was a "Tobacco Chewer", as most men of that day were. As his convictions of right and wrong were quickened, the habit bore heavily upon him mind and he had a dream. In his vision he thought he was in his clearing felling timber, a large tree had fallen and as was his custom he struck his ax in the top of the stump and seating himself on the body of the fallen tree he reached one hand in one pocket for his pen-knife, then the other in the other pocket for his tobacco and was about to cut off a "chew" when, to his surprise and disgust, he held in his hand an ugly worm instead of his tobacco. This was repeated the second and third time with the same result, when he awoke with excitement. This incident, he said, forever settled his mind in reference to the tobacco habit and he never used it again until the day of his death.

Mrs. Kean was not possessed of a rugged constitution, but her husband bore more than his equal share of the hardships of life by favoring her in whatever was possible. She joined the M.E. Church in her youth and remained a consistent member of the same all her life. In about the year 1862 this couple left the old farm and located about one mile north of the village of Shreve in Clinton Township, same county, where they spent the remainder of their days in retirement from hard labor and the anxious cares of business life, both living to a ripe old age and departing this life within a few weeks of each other - she on the 19th day of December, 1883 and he on the 23rd of March, 1884. Their remains were interred in the family burying ground at "Case's Meeting House".

On June 13th, 1830 he was united in marriage to Sarah Williams and on the marriage of his sister, Elizabeth, which occurred during the following winter, he and his wife took charge of his father's house, farming his father's farm and caring for his aged father.

To this couple nine children were born, seven of whom grew to adulthood, two dying in infancy, as follows:

He took an active interest in the cause of education and served as a "School Director" in his school district.

In the summer of 1848 while on his way home in the evening from the hayfield about one mile away from home on "Big Prairie", he stopped to talk to a neighbor and, being without a coat, he became chilly and contracted a severe cold which settled on his lungs and developed into consumption. This preyed upon his system until he was reduced to a mere skeleton, ending in his demise, which occurred on May 13th, 1849. His remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground at "Case's Meeting House". Mr. Case left behind him his aged father - Augustus Case, a widow and seven children who remained at the old homestead. His aged father survived him nearly three years. His widow, with the assistance of her children, carried on the farm until the family were all well grown and most of them had entered on active life for themselves, when she on September 11th, 1863 was also called to her reward. Her remains were interred in the cemetery beside those of her husband. Mr. Case was a man of large frame and about 6'2" in height with light hair and complexion. JOSHUA CASE

4. Joshua Case

Joshua Case, 4th son and 6th living child of Augustus Case, was born in Washington Co., Pennsylvania on October 2nd, 1812 and removed with his parents to Wayne County, Ohio in 1814, where he grew to manhood and, like his brothers and sisters, suffered all the hardships and privation of frontier life and was also bereft of his mother at the age of 5 years.

The advantage of home education was meager indeed, there being no public school in the neighborhood for several years, but by home tutorage and an improvement of what advantages he had he, like his brothers and sisters, acquired a fair common school education for the times.

On March 12th, 1835 he was united in marriage to Rebecca Jane Phillips. They commenced the world for themselves by opening somewhere in Seneca Co., Ohio, what was known in those days as a "Temperance Tavern", which they conducted for several years, then moved to and occupied a house on the southern part of his father's farm, one occupied by his oldest brother, Samuel Youngs Case.

Here he lived until his death which occurred on March 18th, 1845. He died with the dreaded disease, consumption, with which he lingered for many months and was the first of the family of his father's six children who grew to maturity to pass away. His remains were interred in the family burying ground at "Case's Meeting House".

Mr. Case was a man of enterprise and assisted in building the pike running west from Blatsleysville in Wayne County. In 1841 he and his nephew, Milton B. Case, were successful bidders for two mail routes, one from Wooster, Wayne Co., Ohio to Perrysville in (then) Richland Co., Ohio; the other from Wooster to Nashville in Holmes Co., Ohio. His nephew sold his interest in these routes to his father, Samuel Y. Case, whose sons Reason B. and Aaron B. Case, in connection with Mr. Case, carried these mails for 4 years.

Mr. Case was one of the original class of Methodists in the formation of that society in the neighborhood and assisted in building the first building for that society on a part of his brother, Samuel Y. Case's farm. He was one of its prominent members and a leader in the society until his death. To this couple were born 6 children, all of whom grew to maturity, viz:

In the spring of 1881 the store room and entire stock of goods was destroyed by fire.

Mr. Case again married to Elizabeth B. Welsh on October 27th, 1881. To this couple was born Garland Augustus Case in 1882.

In April, 1882 he returned to Londonville, sold his McKay property and engaged in the retail grocery business in partnership with R.E. Byers under the firm name of Case & Byers. They carried on business in their building on Water Street for three years, closing out the business in 1885.

In the summer of 1883 Mr. Case built a house in which he has since resided.

During the 10 years following, up to 1896, he has been engaged in the real estate business, spending the winter of 1887-9 in that business at San Diego, California. He was also employed for sometime in negotiating right-of-way for the following railroads: "Toledo, Walhonding Valley and Ohio", "Pittsburgh Ohio Valley and Cincinnati", Sandusky, Ashland and Southern", and the "Eastern Central".

During his many years of business he visited the eastern cities frequently. He has also visited the Pacific Coast during recent years three times. In politics he has always been a Republican. During leisure hours he devoted much of his time to the study of Geology and was at one time an active member of the Ohio Archeological Society of Ohio.

Four sons and a daughter were born to his first marriage and a son to the 2nd. Jessie, the daughter, died at McKay on August 7th, 1870 aged one year, 2 months & 14 days.

The oldest son, Dayton L. Case, died January 23rd, 1893 aged 28 years, 9 months and 21 days. He attended school at Haysville, Ohio 1881-2, came with the family to Londonville in 1882 and assisted his father in the grocery store and in building the house in 1883. In October 1883 he went to Hanford, California where he engaged in clerking, working on a ranch and cutting timber in the mountains. In the spring of 1883, in company with his father who was on a visit to the coast, he went to Santa Paula where he was variously engaged until 1889. In that year he took up a tract of government land in the mountains of Ventura County. Here he built a cabin several miles from his nearest neighbor, engaged in cattle herding, killing deer and farming. Here his father visited him on his birthday, April 2nd, 1892, having made the three days journey up the mountains by means of pack mules and a guide. In June of that year when on a visit to Santa Paula to secure supplies, he met with an accident which eventually caused his death. In attempting to take a loaded revolver from the hands of a drunken acquaintance, it was accidentally discharged, wounding him in the right wrist. The wound, although not considered dangerous at first, gradually became worse. Operations were resorted to in order to save the arm and, from the use of antiseptics, his stomach and lungs were seriously affected and he gradually declined until his death. He made the long journey home alone, arriving at Londonville on December 13th, 1892, after an absence of over nine years. He died January 23rd, 1893 and his remains were laid to rest in the family lot in Londonville Cemetery.
